

Authorization of Tuition for 2009-10

The following RESOLUTION for the 2009-10 academic year reflects the tuition increases that have been proposed by the campuses. Chancellors recommended tuition rate increases consistent with the tuition and fee guidelines established by the Board of Governors at the October 2006 meeting.

RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING TUITION

WHEREAS, G.S. 116-143 requires that the Board of Governors of the University of North Carolina shall fix the tuition and fees, not inconsistent with the actions of the General Assembly, at the constituent institutions of the University.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that, effective with the Fall Term, 2009 the constituent institutions are authorized to charge and collect the following tuition rates.

I. 2009-10 Tuition Rates

The tuition and fee policy of the Board of Governors provides a framework for the Board to use in reviewing and approving increases in tuition and fees on an annual basis. Additionally, in October 2006, the Board adopted a four-year plan for campuses to follow in recommending undergraduate resident tuition and general fees rate increases.

The Board held a policy discussion about tuition and fees at its January meeting. A special question and answer session was also held on January 30, 2009. It is recommended that the Board consider and approve tuition rates as presented below:

A. Previously Board-approved Tuition Increases in Professional Schools:

The following tuition increases for professional schools were approved by the Board of Governors during its February 2007 and February 2008 meetings for the 2009-10 fiscal year. At those meetings, the Board approved tuition increases for professional schools for multi-year periods. These rates will become effective in the fall semester 2009.

North Carolina Central University

School of Law	$1,000 for 2009-10 & 2010-11
---------------	-------------------------------

UNC-Chapel Hill

School of Law (enrolled Fall 2008)	$500 increase (residents) & $1,000 (nonresidents) for 2009-10
Masters of Health Administration (MHA)	$500 increase for 2009-10
Masters of Science in Public Health (MSPH)	$500 increase for 2009-10
School of Dentistry (DDS Candidate)	$1,500 (residents only) for 2009-10

UNC Charlotte

Masters of Accountancy	$2,500 increase for 2009-10
Masters of Science in Economics	$2,500 increase for 2009-10
Masters of Science in Mathematical Finance	$2,500 increase for 2009-10

B. Increases in Tuition for Professional Schools

Two campuses propose tuition increases for 2009-10 at their professional schools. The rates require Board of Governors' approval.

East Carolina University

School of Business

Masters of Business Administration $720 for 2009-10

Masters of Science in Accounting $720 for 2009-10

ECU requests an increase of $40 per SCH to $100 ($720 annual increase) in 2009-10. This is in addition to the $69 campus-initiated tuition increase proposed for all graduate students. The additional revenue will be used to improve the quality of the graduate business programs by providing need-based and merit-based scholarships for incoming students, providing distinguished community engagement fellowships for faculty, providing funds to cover increased operational expenses and student support services.

School of Medicine

$1,000 for 2009-10

ECU requests a $1,000 increase in tuition for all medical school students in 2009-10. This is in addition to the $69 campus-initiated tuition increase proposed for all graduate students. The additional revenue will be used to support faculty retention and recruitment, need-based financial aid, and academic support infrastructure costs.

UNC-Chapel Hill

School of Business

Masters of Accounting $600 (residents) & $1,600 (nonresidents) in 2009-10

Masters of Business Administration $600 (residents) & $1,600 (nonresidents) in 2009-10

The UNC-CH School of Business requests $600 for residents and $1,600 for nonresidents for the MBA and MAC programs in 2009-10. These increases are in addition to the proposed campus-based tuition increase of $400 for all graduate students. The funds will be used to address faculty retention, recruit additional faculty members and increase the number of student fellowships. Increased financial support in these areas is essential for Kenan-Flagler Business School to continue to improve their position as a top tier business school in an increasingly complex, competitive global educational market.

School of Pharmacy

Pharm D $589 (residents) & 1,406 (nonresidents) in 2009-10

The UNC-CH Eshelman School of Pharmacy requests $589 for residents and $1,406 for nonresidents enrolled in the PharmD curriculum. These increases are in addition to the proposed campus-based tuition increase of $400 for all graduate students. Funds generated by the tuition increase will be used in three areas that are crucial to the continued growth and development of the School: (1) assessment of the PharmD program that is required for continuing accreditation, (2) expansion of experiential sites at UNC Hospitals, and (3) financial assistance for PharmD students.

II. Special Tuition Rates

A. Nonresident Undergraduate Students

Consistent with the General Statutes and by authorization of the Board of Governors through a resolution passed by the Board in 1983, the campuses are authorized to charge special tuition rates for nonresident undergraduate students.

To qualify for the special rate, a student must have a special talent in academics, the performing arts, or athletics. For these students, the nonresident tuition rate is reduced by either $834 or $950 depending on the Carnegie classification of the institution in 1983. At the time, these amounts approximated half of the nonresident tuition charged to students but do not nearly have the same impact today. Appropriations were made by the legislature to each campus to offset the cost of the tuition waiver.

Effective with the Fall Term of 2009, the special tuition rates for qualifying nonresident undergraduates are shown on the following page. The new rates reflect the tuition increases proposed in Section I.

II. Special Tuition Rates (continued)

B. Nonresident Graduate Students

Consistent with the General Statutes and by authorization of the Board of Governors through a resolution passed by the Board in 1983, the campuses are authorized to charge special tuition rates for nonresident graduate students.

For nonresident graduate students that are awarded a graduate teaching or research assistantship and who are paid a stipend of at least $2,000 per academic year, the institution may award tuition remission to reduce the nonresident tuition rate to the in-state rate. For an example, the nonresident graduate student tuition rate is proposed to increase from $12,541 to $13,193 at ASU. ASU graduate nonresident students that are eligible to receive tuition remission will be charged the resident tuition rate, which is proposed to increase from $2,642 to $2,779 for the 2009-10 academic year.

Each campus has a state budget for graduate tuition remissions and some campuses supplement state funds from non-state sources. Institutions may not provide graduate tuition remissions to all students. The number of awards is limited to those that meet the criteria and the budget availability.

Effective with the Fall Term of 2009, the special tuition rates for qualifying nonresident graduates are shown on the following two pages. The new rates reflect the tuition increases proposed in Section I.

III. Tuition for Students Enrolled in Degree-Credit Distance Education Courses

Distance education students are charged on a per-credit-hour basis, rather than a “stair-step” methodology charged to regular-term students. The Distance Education per-credit-hour tuition rate is derived by dividing regular term tuition costs by 29.6 for undergraduates and 20.4 for graduate students. Since distance education students are not charged athletic, health, and student activity fees, the cost of education is considerably lower than students that are taking courses using face-to-face instruction.

It is proposed that, effective with the fall semester 2009, resident students and nonresident students taking courses within North Carolina that are enrolled in distance education courses be charged the regular-term tuition rates established in Section I. It is further proposed that tuition rates for these students be implemented on a per-credit-hour basis and that the charge per credit hour be calculated as follows:

- For undergraduate courses, the rate per student credit hour would be the annual rate divided by 29.6 hours.
- For graduate courses, the rate per student credit hour would be the annual rate divided by 20.4 hours.

It is further proposed that the Board delegate to the President the authority to set tuition rates for nonresident students taking courses outside North Carolina. These are students who primarily take courses via the Internet.
