

Request for Authorization to Discontinue the Master of Arts in Literature, English and American, Teacher Education at North Carolina State University

North Carolina State University has requested that its MA in Literature, English and American, Teacher Education (CIP 13.1305) be discontinued.

The MA in Literature, English and American, Teacher Education has no student enrollments. Students interested in teacher licensure pursue a concentration within either the MA in Teaching or the MS or MEd in Curriculum and Instruction.

Recommendation: It is recommended that the Board of Governors approve North Carolina State University's request to discontinue the MA in Literature, English and American, Teacher Education.
