In closing, Chair Ramsey thanked the members of Dr. Ogletree’s family and colleagues who joined the presentation by video. He congratulated Dr. Ogletree and noted that Dr. Ogletree and faculty across our great University strive on a regular basis to serve in a way that enhances the quality of life for North Carolinians.

President Hans reflected on the challenges caused by last year’s COVID-19 pandemic. He spoke about the “hands-on-deck” approach that the entire system has undertaken in response to the pandemic. He commented that despite the pandemic, the core work of this System has continued with a focus on achieving its strategic plan’s goals – improving student success, increasing graduation rates, supporting key growth areas for the state’s workforce, and welcoming more first-time generation students from our rural communities. For President Hans’s complete report, please see Appendix B.

The staff assembly will continue to follow the recommendations that were identified in the report.

In closing, Mr. Killian thanked the Board for including staff salary increases in the recent UNC Legislative Priorities.

Report of the Committee on University Governance
Mr. Powers, chair of the committee, reported that the committee continued its series of presentations on free expression and free speech. He recalled that in November 2020, the committee heard a presentation by three faculty members from UNC-Chapel Hill, which provided an informative look at the “state of things” on UNC-Chapel Hill’s campus. At its meeting the previous day, the committee hosted its second presentation, which included Chancellor Dixon, Chancellor Sartarelli, and two current students – Dalton George from Appalachian State University and John Waugh from UNC Charlotte. The panelists shared viewpoints on the topic and described what the campuses are doing to protect free speech and expression. Mr. Powers thanked the participants and noted that the committee will continue discussion on this topic.

Next, the committee discussed the Board of Governors process for nominating candidates to the boards of trustees. Members of the committee have been working diligently with the chancellors and boards of trustees’ chairs on the process. The committee will consider the full entire list of trustee nominations and bring the list of nominees to the full Board for approval at its next meeting.

Finally, Mr. Powers reminded the Board of the following upcoming appointments: the North Carolina Teaching Fellows Commission has two vacancies, which will be brought before the committee at its April meeting; and UNC Press has three vacancies, which will be brought before the committee in May for approval.

The federal relations staff highlighted the funding relief that was included in the legislation for higher education as well as funds designated for the UNC System’s institutions. Report of the Committee on Audit, Risk Management, and Compliance
Mr. Holton, chair of the committee, reported that the committee heard a summary of the 2020 Fiscal Year Financial Statement Audit Reports issued by the Office of the State Auditor. The reports contained no audit findings. Next, the committee received an overview by Mr. Bryan Heckle, NC Department of Insurance, regarding the UNC System’s property insurance coverage and exclusions. Effective January 1, 2021, all institutions have a broad scope of property insurance coverage at “all risk special form.”

Next, the committee heard a presentation related to efforts that would address key enterprise risks in campus safety and security. Mr. Holton recalled that at its last meeting, the committee requested staff and the campus police chiefs to bring forth strategies for recruiting campus law enforcement officers. The committee considered four recommendations. The first recommendation was to eliminate the cap on tuition waivers and fees for full time campus law enforcement officers. The committee approved this recommendation, which would require proposing an amendment to G.S. 116-143(d). Mr. Holton offered the following motion.

Motion: Resolved, that per the 2021 UNC Legislative Policy Priorities, the Board of Governors approve the inclusion of legislation amending G.S. Chapter 116-143(d) to eliminate the cap on tuition and fee waivers for the UNC System’s campuses’ law enforcement officers.

Motion: Mr. Mark Holton
Motion carried (Roll Call vote taken; see Appendix K)

The committee considered and approved three other recommendations for recruiting law enforcement officers, including: enhancing the salary structure, career ladder, and organizational structure of campus law enforcement; developing plans to launch training programs at Samarcand Training Facility as well as identify equipment needs; and developing a system for dual employment to fill critical vacancies.
Report of the Committee on Strategic Initiatives
Mrs. Coward, chair of the committee, reported that the committee continued its discussion of innovation in higher education. The committee explored demographic projections, which predict that colleges will see a slowdown of traditional college-aged students. These new projections could have a significant implication for the System, which relies heavily on traditional-aged students. The committee will continue to explore strategies and tactics designed to attract and retain students that include offering online programs in high-demand fields, flexible schedules with multiple start dates, employer partnerships, and stackable credentials.

Report of the Committee on Military and Veterans Affairs
Mr. Daughtry, chair of the committee, reported that the committee heard an update from Ms. Lauren Augustine, vice president of government affairs for Student Veterans of America. She spoke about a bill that Congress passed last year – Isakson and Roe Veterans Health Care and Benefits Improvement Act of 2020 – which requires all institutions of higher education to provide in-state tuition to students using federal veterans’ education benefits, who are living within the state, regardless of formal residency status.

The committee heard an update on the UNC System’s new partnership with the U.S. Army 82nd Airborne Division at Fort Bragg on important research initiatives designed to advance the national security mission. Mr. Daughtry also reported on the U.S. Department of Defense appropriation bill that will support academic partnerships with Army operational units. The partnership will strengthen the System’s existing relationship with the military and allow for opportunities to enhance education, research, and innovation in STEM-related disciplines. The committee was also briefed on a presentation given to White House officials last summer that raises awareness of the current veterans’ suicide rate.

Chair’s Report
Chair Ramsey spoke about the UNC System’s efforts and response to the COVID-19 pandemic. Since the onset, the UNC System has worked together in a very collaborative manner with our state and emergency management departments. As an example, North Carolina A&T State University opened a COVID-19 vaccination clinic on its campus and offered vaccinations to the community. Several other constituent institutions have followed suit and UNC Health has administered 160,000 vaccinations to residents across our state.

Next, Chair Ramsey noted that the UNC System is working diligently to have students return to campus. The campuses have been able to open for some form of in-person classes and continue to make every effort to protect their community while educating the workforce that will help rebuild our state’s economy.

Chair Ramsey referred to the System’s five-year strategic plan that was developed in 2016. He was pleased that several of the plan’s goals – student success and access, affordability, efficiency, economic impact, community engagement, and excellent and diverse institutions – have exceeded on many fronts. He noted that graduation rates have increased and many of our students are finishing degrees more efficiently. The System will continue efforts to help increase accessibility for low-income and rural students. The System also reached record enrollment numbers last year. He was pleased that the Board voted to keep in-state tuition flat for the fifth consecutive year. He thanked the Committee on Budget and Finance for its diligent work.

In closing, Chair Ramsey thanked the General Assembly for its continued support of the UNC System and looks forward to continuing to work with the legislature to ensure that the N.C. Promise Program continues. Chair Ramsey recognized President Hans for doing an amazing job in a difficult role and thanked him for his outstanding leadership.

The committee voted to accept the president’s recommendation and submit the nominee and the proposed terms of the nominee’s employment to the full Board.
