Pradeep leads a 21st Century Learning and Skills Assessment company (www.edtechsystems.com) that provides web delivered instructional solutions for technology literacy and benchmark assessments targeting middle and high schools. He has been the chief architect of the company's solution working with schools and districts directly and addressing the pain points in delivering cutting edge practical solutions that both cost effective and results driven. The product delivers ISTE aligned curriculum for technology literacy.

Pradeep's educational background includes Bachelors of Science in Engineering from India, Masters of Business Administration from Wake Forest, NC, Courses from Oxford University, UK, NCSU, IBM and UNC Charlotte. He worked and trained at IBM, Lockheed Martin, MCI, Abbott Labs at various positions that involved use of high technology leverage and deployments.

Pradeep's K-12 experience started about 9 years ago in a consultative capacity working with large school districts in its technology functions. He successfully implemented SIS, ERP, K-12 Verticals, Datawarehouses and Instructional Systems across district levels.

Pradeep's works with non-profits such as Faces In The Community in Fayetteville, TiE Carolinas and a local HOA. Pradeep is an active investor and has holdings that include real estate assets in Durham (hotel asset) and Raleigh area (commercial plaza).

Pradeep believes the success of US lies in the success of its current generation of students. Education Technology is one of those key tools for student success. Pradeep would like to bring educational technology to within reach of every child and every teacher to enable success.
