

3. UNC Core Update.....Staff

Situation: The William and Ida Friday Center for Continuing Education is developing a marketing strategy for the “UNC Core.”

Background: The UNC system has lacked the capacity to offer active-duty military students access to general education courses within the time frame desired by the military students. The UNC Core framework builds upon existing coursework offered by UNC institutions in the Friday Center Consortium.

Assessment: A fully developed UNC Core will enable the UNC system to be more competitive for highly-desirable active-duty military students.

Action: This item is for information and discussion.